I chose the Tsinghua University - CUHK Dual Undergraduate Degree Programme in Economics because I have always had an interest in economics and understanding how the world works. Economics studies people, their choices, and how these choices impact other outcomes, all which I find very interesting as this happens in everyday life. I felt that this programme not only allows me to study that inside the classroom, but outside as well by giving me the chance to live in two major cities and economic hubs. I do not only get to study at two very prestigious universities, but I have the opportunity to explore and learn about two vastly different but equally interesting cities and make good friends in both of them.

After graduation, I plan on studying a postgraduate degree, possibly more towards finance or business and getting a job involving investment banking and analysis."

Going for an exchange year to Beijing during high school, I quickly came to the conclusion that I want to continue my studies outside of Europe. Being born into an entrepreneurial family, I developed a strong interest in economics. The Tsinghua - CUHK Dual Degree Program offers here not just the opportunity to study in two economically highly important cities but also in two prestigious universities. But never would I have dreamed to be able to experience such a wide variety of things and receive this large support in academics, personal growth and opportunities. Countless experiences from being a research assistant over two mentorship programs to making countless friends made this program and the time one of the best choices of my life.

After graduation, I plan to study as a graduate student in the area of renewable energy and then start a career in the green energy sector focused on management project development and investment.
